NHS IPC website

Take a look at the first NHS IPC website specifically designed for General Practice, Health and Social Care and Domiciliary Care.

The screenshot shows the NHS IPC website homepage. At the top left is the Infection Prevention Control logo. To its right is the NHS logo. Below the NHS logo are navigation links: 'About us | Case studies | Contact us'. A central navigation menu lists: 'GP Practices', 'Health and Social Care', 'Other Healthcare Professionals', 'CQC Compliance', 'Resources', and 'Events'. The main content area features a large image of hands being washed with soap. To the right of this image is a red box with the text: 'Infection Prevention and Control – helping you gain CQC compliance'. Below this text is a smaller line: 'We have a wealth of evidence-based advice and resources to help you with your CQC infection prevention and control compliance.' At the bottom of this red box is a white button that says 'FIND OUT HOW WE CAN HELP'. Below the main content area are three smaller images with captions: 'GP Practices' (a doctor and a patient at a desk), 'Health & Social Care' (an elderly woman and a man), and 'Healthcare Professionals' (a doctor in a lab coat and mask).

Positive Feedback

I think the Preventing Infection Workbook for General Practice 2nd Edition is comprehensive and will contribute towards IPC standards as required by the regulations and interpreted for use in primary care.

Elaine Biscoe, National Nursing Advisor, Care Quality Commission – Head Office, London

The Workbook is brilliant! Really engaging and builds on the last Preventing Infection Workbook and Guidance for General Practice. I read it from cover to cover in one go as I found it really interesting. Dr Brookes also thought it was really well thought out – good links to extra information as required and presented in a way that was suitable for all levels.

(‘Outstanding’ CQC rating – being in the top 3% of Practices in the whole country)

Marie Brookes MCSP, Managing Partner, Reeth Medical Centre, Reeth, Richmond

I would like to say I have used the Preventing Infection Workbook and Guidance for Health and Social Care for both existing staff, as a refresher and for new starters. The booklets have received high praise from the individuals using them and they have been a great tool for provoking important discussions relating to hygiene standards.

Mandy McCarthy-Ward, Care Home Training Manager, Ashmere, Derbyshire
